

DANIEL LUNDH

Daniel has an eye for comedy and art direction. His films include a wide variety of styles but his comedic films stands out the most.

He's slightly obsessed with casting and firmly believes that everything is fun if approached from the right point of view.

Having worked as a creative at the renowned agency SNASK for several years, Daniel's take on things always include innovation and testing in the pre-production phase.

He has been heard shouting "improvisation is a gift from the gods!" But most likely that's just a rumour.