

Julian Holzwarth

Julian started filming when he was around 15, shooting skate videos with his friends. The spirit from these days still lives on today.

Authenticity, combined with more stylized and abstract imagery, is what stands out in his work. His perception of aesthetic qualities and appreciation for beauty help Julian express himself through his pictures.

Julian is a very visual person, which comes from his background as a photographer. From 2001-2004 he studied Photography and Media Design near his hometown in Stuttgart. After that he was the creative leader of the film department at Staud Studios for three years. During this time he worked for automotive brands such as Aston Martin, Mercedes Benz and Porsche.

Since 2013 Julian has been working as a freelancer, focusing on beauty, lifestyle and automotive. Still in search of the perfect picture, he keeps pushing himself to become a better filmmaker.
