

Michael Lockshin

Michael grew up in both the USA and Russia, and has merged his cinematic passions from both worlds in his filmmaking.

Started working in film production as a student in London, and shot his first commercials, short films and music videos back in home Moscow, which quickly won him a Cannes Lions Young Director's Award in 2011.

Michael has shot over 100 commercials in the past 10 years for brands like Bud, Nike, McDonalds, which have won numerous prizes, including Cannes Young Director's award, Golden Drum, Shots, and have gone viral.

In 2019 he shot his first feature film - Silver Skates a period criminal romance, which will be theatrically released Christmas 2020.

Currently based between Moscow, Berlin and L.A