

Nick Bartleet

I bring to every project my own unique combination of technical understanding and storytelling.

I love a challenge and aside from directing, I have been fortunate enough through my work to explore cinematography, art direction, and visual effects.

I've built complex sets, worked as VFX supervisor, designed lighting installations, directed stunts and underwater scenes and even created costume and props for Hollywood blockbusters.

I find balance in my life by hiking, running, cycling or training for competitive events, and have a keen interest in health and fitness.

This interest has infused my work with an ever deeper insight into what moves, motivates and inspires.
