

Ilya Cherepitsa

Ilya likes to shoot lifestyle videos because this approach shows people as they are — free, charismatic and happy.

His works are always filled with strong energy, dynamic editing and interesting visual solutions. Also, he likes to use mapping, projections and graphics in his works.

He is in this industry for three years now and currently wants to shoot more in Europe, because of the powerful creative atmosphere, interesting locations, and the most free and emotional people.

He believes that for creative growth you need to not stagnate in one place, set yourself for a new goal and reach it.
