

CAN HEINRICH TOEPFFER

Can Heinrich Toepffer, the son of a dönershop owner and a speech therapist, used to be a professional hip-hop dancer.

Through the filming of his own choreographies he found the love for filmmaking.

Before finally becoming a filmmaker, he studied sport science and worked as a sports therapist.

The versatility of his life are mirrored in his projects as a director and director of photography. In addition to the creative implementation of his work, he also pushes to work as environmentally friendly as possible.