formerly known as The Hanke Brothers and now with Pat Boriello

Well - the best thing about them is that you will have a great time with them on set! This doesn't mean your film comes short - quite the contrary! After 7 years of working together, they are a perfectly coordinated trio, where everybody knows what the other thinks and does.

Starring Pat, whose infectious energy and fascination of a kid for film and music always kept him curious. He tried a lot of different jobs before becoming a director, which let him learn about people and their different perceptions of life, their interactions, emotions, desires, and the societal corset surrounding it. All experiences turned him into a self-determined, open-minded creative who fell in love with telling captivating stories in a powerful, ecstatic rhythm, consciously unfolding a holistic narrative.

And starring the two twins Dennis & Marcel, who started off creating film from a very young age always kept their childish enthusiasm of exploring the world catching authentic emotions and composing unique stories in a modern cinematography. Dennis as the precise thinker with an eye for aesthetic, details & zeitgeist. Marcel with a progressive vision, always close to emotions, movements and performance.

All of them shared the same journey of self-studying & together they create a perfect symbiosis between different strengths - leading them to work for brands like McDonald's, Edeka, Mercedes Benz, Congstar, Hugo Boss, Red Bull, Adidas, Kärcher, and many more.

Despite their young age, they have seven years of experience in the industry while also being in the ravages of time.

Their work is mainly inspired by international artists worldwide, focusing on telling incomparable stories from different perspectives. While a modern and cinematic look plays a significant role in all of their work.

Besides their commercial work, they also did a lot of music videos that got gold and platinum awards and made their first contact with fiction and short films.
